of the 118 Nations that ratified the
International Criminal Court Statute/Treaty of Rome
Sample Request for A Writ of Emergency Injunction &
Writ of Mandamus calling for a Pandemic Treaty Conference

UPDATE: On the advice on counsel, we recommend that you work with legal advice when (1) bringing legal action against Pandemic perpetrators in the national courts, (2) bringing legal action against Pandemic perpetrators in conjunction with State Prosecutors, and (3) calling for a Genocidal Technologies-Pandemic Treaty Conference in conjunction with the ratifying 118 nations of the International Criminal Court Statute/Treaty of Rome.

The Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court is the treaty that established the International Criminal Court. It was adopted at a diplomatic conference in Rome, Italy on 17 July 1998 and it entered into force on 1 July 2002. The Rome Statute established four core international crimes: genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes, and the crime of aggression. Those crimes “shall not be subject to any statute of limitations”.

Universal Jurisdiction: International Criminal Code

“Universal jurisdiction may be asserted by a particular nation as well as by an international tribunal. The result is the same: individuals become answerable for crimes defined and prosecuted regardless of where they live, or where the conduct occurred; crimes said to be so grievous as to be universally condemned.... since the end of the Second World War over fifteen states have conducted investigations, commenced prosecutions and completed trials based on universal jurisdiction for the crimes or arrested people with a view to extraditing the persons to a state seeking to prosecute them. These states include: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Israel, Mexico, Netherlands, Senegal, Spain, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States.”

“The Center for Constitutional Rights tried first in Switzerland and then in Canada to prosecute former US President George W. Bush on behalf of persons tortured in US detention camps, invoking the universal jurisdiction doctrine. Bush cancelled his trip to Switzerland after news of the planned prosecution came to light. Bush has traveled to Canada but the Canadian government shut down the prosecution in advance of his arrest.[21] The Center has filed a grievance with the United Nations for Canada's failure to invoke universal jurisdiction to enforce the Convention Against Torture, a petition on which action is pending.”

“To implement the Rome Statute, Canada passed the Crimes Against Humanity and War Crimes Act. Michael Byers, a University of British Columbia law professor, has argued that these laws go further than the Rome Statute, providing Canadian courts with jurisdiction over acts pre-dating the ICC and occurring in territories outside of ICC member-states;” as a result, anyone who is present in Canada and alleged to have committed genocide, torture ... anywhere, at any time, can be prosecuted [in Canada].

118 Nations Ratifying the International Criminal Court Statute

This is a list of the 118 Nations ratifying the International Criminal Court Statute whose National Courts may have Universal Jurisdiction over war crimes,

NOTE: Key members of the criminal co-conspiracy of named and unnamed Defendants herein reside in the People's Republic of China, the United States of America, the State of Israel, the Islamic Republic of Iran, and the Russian Federation, nations that are not signatories or ratifiers of the International Criminal Court-Rome Statute. Therefore such Defendants fall under the Universal Jurisdiction of National Courts of the 118 nations that have signed and ratified the International Criminal Court-Rome Statute, and fall under the Universal Jurisdiction of this Court. As the UK has ratified the International Criminal Code, Defendants residing in the United Kingdom fall under the jurisdiction of UK Courts as well as the National Courts of the other 117 ratifying Nations.

For example, individuals in the United States of America such as Bill Gates and Anthony Stephen Fauci, MD, who along with other named and unnamed Defendants in a criminal conspiracy, has committed and continues to commit 5G/AI Coronavirus-related international crimes of genocide and crimes against humanity as documented publicly by the President of Ghana, may be sued for genocide and crimes against humanity in the courts of Ghana under Universal Jurisdiction using the International Criminal Code.

Definitions of Genocide and Crimes Against Humanity

(1) Genocide – As defined in Article 6 of the International Criminal Code, For the purpose of this Statute, “genocide” means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such:

- (a) Killing members of the group;
- (b) Causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;
- (c) Deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part;
- (d) Imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group;
- (e) Forcibly transferring children of the group to another group.

(2) Crimes Against Humanity – As defined in Article 7 of the International Criminal Code, For the purpose of this Statute, “crime against humanity” means any of the following acts when committed as part of a widespread or systematic attack directed against any civilian population, with knowledge of the attack:

- (a) Murder;
- (b) Extermination;
- (c) Enslavement;
- (d) Deportation or forcible transfer of population;
- (e) Imprisonment or other severe deprivation of physical liberty in violation of fundamental rules of international law;
- (f) Torture;
- (g) Rape, sexual slavery, enforced prostitution, forced pregnancy, enforced sterilization, or any other form of sexual violence of comparable gravity;
- (h) Persecution against any identifiable group or collectivity on political, racial, national, ethnic, cultural, religious, gender as defined in paragraph 3, or other grounds that are universally recognized as impermissible under international law, in connection with any act referred to in this paragraph or any crime within the jurisdiction of the Court;
- (i) Enforced disappearance of persons;
- (j) The crime of apartheid;
- (k) Other inhumane acts of a similar character intentionally causing great suffering, or serious injury to body or to mental or physical health.

2. For the purpose of paragraph 1:

- (a) “Attack directed against any civilian population” means a course of conduct involving the multiple commission of acts referred to in paragraph 1 against any civilian population, pursuant to or in furtherance of a State or organizational policy to commit such attack;
- (b) “Extermination” includes the intentional infliction of conditions of life, inter alia the deprivation of access to food and medicine, calculated to bring about the destruction of part of a population;
- (c) “Enslavement” means the exercise of any or all of the powers attaching to the right of ownership over a person and includes the exercise of such power in the course of trafficking in persons, in particular women and children;
- (d) “Deportation or forcible transfer of population” means forced displacement of the persons concerned by expulsion or other coercive acts from the area in which they are lawfully present, without grounds permitted under international law;
- (e) “Torture” means the intentional infliction of severe pain or suffering, whether physical or mental, upon a person in the custody or under the control of the accused; except that torture shall not include pain or suffering arising only from, inherent in or incidental to, lawful sanctions;
- (f) “Forced pregnancy” means the unlawful confinement of a woman forcibly made pregnant, with the intent of affecting the ethnic composition of any population or carrying out other grave violations of international law. This definition shall not in any way be interpreted as affecting national laws relating to pregnancy;
- (g) “Persecution” means the intentional and severe deprivation of fundamental rights contrary to international law by reason of the identity of the group or collectivity;
- (h) “The crime of apartheid” means inhumane acts of a character similar to those referred to in paragraph 1, committed in the context of an institutionalized regime of systematic oppression and domination by one racial group over any other racial group or groups and committed with the intention of maintaining that regime;
- (i) “Enforced disappearance of persons” means the arrest, detention or abduction of persons by, or with the authorization, support or acquiescence of, a State or a political organization, followed by a refusal to acknowledge that deprivation of freedom or to give information on the fate or whereabouts of those persons, with the intention of removing them from the protection of the law for a prolonged period of time.

3. For the purpose of this Statute, it is understood that the term “gender” refers to the two sexes, male and female, within the context of society. The term “gender” does not indicate any meaning different from the above.

Probable Cause Evidence of Irreparable Harm to Plaintiffs and to all Human Beings similarly situated, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code

I. Genocidal Technologies-CV Genocide – Probable Cause Evidence of Irreparable Harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code

Genocidal Technologies-CV Genocide – Probable Cause Evidence of Irreparable Harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated – The Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated will suffer irreparable harm and injury including genocide and crimes against humanity if Defendants are permitted to proceed with development, distribution, installation, and operation of 5G/AI wifi and Genocidal Technologies, especially 5G/AI technology installed in the proximity of schools and human residences.

Expert witness testimony of Genocidal Technologies-CV Genocide – On August 1, 2020, 5G expert witnesses Dr. Robert O. Young, Dr. Ross Andersen, and Klanmother Nurse Karen MacDonald published in evidence that 5G wifi and 5G technology is producing radiation poisoning in humans at levels that reach genocide and crimes against humanity, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code. This evidence was published on TrueTube.co and NewsInsideOut.com, a publication not in the control of an international Criminal Conspiracy of unnamed John and Jane Does, and hence evidence that could not be censored from the public record and is available for this Court as follows:

Continued operation of 5G/AI wifi and 5G/AI technologies by the Defendants will result in a continuation of the 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide causing imminent and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, thereby resulting in Genocide and Crimes Against Humanity as prohibited by Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

Science-based study demonstrates the correlation between cases of coronavirus and the presence of 5G networks

Author: Bartomeu Payeras i Cifre1

Translated from the Spanish by Claire Edwards

Date: March-April 2020

<https://tinyurl.com/y5bmq9lz>

The COVID-19 pandemic and its effects in early 2020 have surprised scientists and politicians. If any study aimed at understanding the phenomenon and which consequently may help to clarify the causes of the pandemic is carried out, it should be promoted and/or taken into consideration. The correlation between cases of coronavirus and the presence of 5G networks has been addressed in alternative media and social networks. It is noteworthy that, at least in Spain, the media have not covered the scientific studies on the subject of 5G, nor asked the government any questions about this in the daily press conferences that it conducts to report on the state of the situation. The team of scientists advising the Spanish government has also failed to raise this issue.

It is common sense that the ability to demonstrate this correlation would be very important data to contribute to the understanding of, and the solution to, the problem.

Objective

To assess whether a correlation exists between cases of coronavirus and the presence of 5G networks. Without entering for the moment into subsequent cause-effect approaches in the case of positive results. Given that there is a sufficiently large statistical sample, it is possible for the results obtained to have a high level of reliability.

Material and methods

The study has benefited from the official statistical material published daily, which is a basic and valuable tool. It should be noted that in these publications, the methodology used for counting cases of coronavirus infections does not generally provide real data. In Spain and many other countries, it has not been calculated as there are not enough tests for such analyses. However, this does not alter the results of this study since it is based on the comparative rather than the absolute method of infection.

Therefore, in order to avoid statistical error, we will compare the density value of confirmed cases of coronavirus (expressed in number of cases per 1000 inhabitants) instead of absolute values. Since the criterion for counting used by the health authorities within the same state or city is the same, the comparison of published values for different cities or regions will be equally reliable for statistics. Comparisons between different countries of confirmed cases, excluding asymptomatic cases, will be equally reliable. The possible exception of some non-transparent country that could manipulate the publication of its data is beyond the control of this study.

The method used was to compare the incidence (no. of cases per 1000 inhabitants) between countries with and without 5G technology. Between regions of the same country with and without 5G technology. Between cities of the same state with and without 5G technology. Between different neighbourhoods of the same city with the 5G network map of that city. Comparing states with common borders with and without 5G technology. Comparing the case of one state within another, as is the case of San Marino.

Results and discussion

To know whether or not the result obtained is that of a random phenomenon, a statistical analysis of the results of an experiment must be carried to calculate the probability of the event occurring. The probability calculation is obtained by dividing the number of favourable cases by the number of possible cases. If the result shows that it is not a random phenomenon, it shows sufficient causal reason to analyse the causes.

To eliminate any upward errors we will always opt for the most conservative numerical option.

Let us therefore calculate the probability of three of the examples analysed above.

(a) Probability that the 9 most contagious countries on the planet are countries with 5G networks.

There are 194 countries on the planet. As of 6 March 2020, according to GSMA, there are 24 countries with 5G technology.

$Pr = 24/194 \times 23/193 \times 22/192$ (nine times in total) $= 0.1237 \times 0.1191 \times 0.1145 \times 0.1099 \times 0.1052 \times 0.1005 \times 0.0957 \times 0.0909 \times 0.0860 = 1.47 \times 10^{-9}$.

The probability is 1 in 680,000,000.

If we include Japan, which also has 5G and rates of infection similar to those of South Korea ... the probability is 1 in 8,500,000,000.

(b) Probability that the 5 most contagious countries in Europe have 5G networks.

There are 49 countries in Europe, among which it is currently difficult to know if they currently deploy 5G, as there are 5 that have declared a moratorium, and many others do not have operational networks although companies publish as if they were already operational when they have signed agreements. We will calculate it downwards, as a conservative option, we will assume that about 15 countries have operational 5G systems.

The probability is 1 in 637.

(c) The case of San Marino is highly significant. It is located within the Italian territory, with a similar culture, economy, and social level, but presents much higher rates of infection. The only difference is the time of exposure of its citizens to 5G radiation, because it was the first state in the world to implement such technology on 4 September 2018, while in Italy it was 5 June 2019. This opens the door to debate about the likely influence of 5G on the increase in the rates of infection.

The probability is 1 in 37,636.

These figures are eloquent enough to make calculating the other cases unnecessary.

The results for the city of Barcelona (pp. 7-8) indicate that sociological factors do not have a significant influence on the rates of infection, but if we see a clear relationship with the 5G coverage map, which added to the 4G coverage, gives us a correlation between mobile coverage and the proportion of cases of coronavirus. If more data were available, this study should be extended to other cities.

Findings

1. The results obtained demonstrate a clear and close relationship between the rate of coronavirus infections and 5G antenna location.
2. This study does not analyse the beneficial or harmful effects on humans of 5G electromagnetic radiation. However, it does indicate a possible cause-effect in the current pandemic.
3. A “border effect” is significant, original and unique to this pandemic: it presents marked differences between contiguous states with and without 5G installation. It is particularly significant that the countries bordering China have very low rates of infection. One may also compare between Mexico and the USA or between Portugal and Spain, etc.
4. The case of San Marino is particularly significant. It was the first state in the world to install 5G and therefore, the state whose citizens have been exposed to 5G radiation the longest, and suspiciously, the first state in the world with infections. The probability of this happening is 1 in 37,636.
5. In the cities studied, Madrid, Barcelona and New York, this correlation is also observed. In the study of the city of Barcelona (pp. 7-8), it can be seen that the socio-economic factor plays a significant role.²
6. It is very significant that on the African continent, with scarce health resources but without 5G, the rate of infection is very low, except for some antennas in South Africa, which also presents the highest rates of infection in Africa.
7. The rates of infection are diluted. The rates of some regions are influenced by cities with 5G, but the rates of infection of these cities are diluted in those of the region to which they belong. So it is more significant, as is the case of Spain, to compare uniprovincial autonomous regions, than among those that are formed by 3 or more of the old provinces. Thus we see that some regions with 5G such as Rioja, Madrid and Navarra, have rates between 4 and 8 times higher than others without 5G. The same is true in other cities around the world where the 5G network does not cover the entire territory of the state or region.

8. These data and results have the value of being taken “in vivo”, not based on prospective or laboratory studies. Never before have we had so much epidemiological information about a disease in humans to be able to produce scientific studies. A means of answering the question of cause and effect would be to disconnect the 5G networks, at least as a preventive measure, and see the results of the evolution of cases of coronavirus. So would studying the rate of infection in a state that declared a 5G moratorium after the pandemic started and studying if the statistics change. Given the evidence presented here, the data and conclusions of this study urgently need to be given due consideration. Given the current gravity of the pandemic, the media and political and health authorities have a responsibility to take urgent action. A failure to act in the face of the findings of this study could be considered negligent at the very least and very possibly criminal.

Bartomeu Payeras i Cifre, 14 April 2020

Translator’s note: there is a contradiction between the last paragraph of the section entitled “Results and discussion” and paragraph 5 of the section entitled “Findings”. In one it is stated that “sociological factors do not have a significant influence on rates of infection”, and in the other it is stated that they do.

5G/AI & Electromagnetic genocide – Defendants are engaging in electromagnetic genocide by continuing to develop, distribute, install, and operate 5G/AI and above wifi and technology, as part of a strategy of “Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars”. See: <https://tinyurl.com/y3m6lg4x> and <https://tinyurl.com/atzzvkl>

Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated are in imminent danger of 5G/AI wifi and technology induced genocide and crimes against humanity in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

5G & Coronavirus Electromagnetic Genocide & crimes against humanity quantified – The Plaintiffs and similarly situated human beings will suffer imminent 5G wifi and technology/Coronavirus induced genocide and crimes against humanity that has now been quantified and must be stopped by emergency Injunction of this Court. A military information website has made estimates of the population reductions comparing 2017 [black] and 2025 [red] if 5G wifi and technology were to remain installed and operating with Coronavirus effects in leading 5G/Coronavirus nations:

6	 United States of America	▼ 99,553,100 326,620,000	▼ $2,445,124 $19,360,000	▼ $32,061 $637,000	▼ $16,374 $59,500
---	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------	------------------------

Thus, unless the 5G wifi and technology/Coronavirus operations of the Defendants are stopped, it is estimated that the population of the United States of America will be reduced from 326,620,000 in 2017 to 99,553,100 in 2025, because of the 5G wifi and technology and Coronavirus related operations of the Defendants.

Nations such as Italy, France, Canada, South Korea, and the United Kingdom that are specially impacted by 5G/AI wifi and technology Coronavirus are estimated to be similarly subjected by Defendants to 5G/AI wifi and technology Coronavirus-related genocide and crimes against humanity, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

9		Italy	▼ 43,760,260 62,140,000	▼ $1,310,580 $1,920,000	▼ $12,942 $28,990	▼ $21,600 $38,000
10		France	▼ 39,114,580 67,100,000	▼ $1,077,685 $2,570,000	▼ $10,761 $58,080	▼ $18,368 $43,600
11		Canada	▼ 26,315,760 35,620,000	▼ $1,051,840 $1,640,000	▼ $6,375 $16,200	▼ $25,208 $48,100
12		South Korea	▼ 37,092,820 51,180,000	▼ $892,900 $1,530,000	▼ $13,722 $41,000	▼ $20,902 $39,400
47		United Kingdom	▼ 14,517,860 65,650,000	▼ $197,472 $2,560,000	▼ $1,396 $56,000	▼ $9,068 $43,600

Because of 5G-AI/Coronavirus related genocide and crimes against humanity, Italy goes from 62,140,000 population in 2017 to 43,760,260, a loss of 20 million or 30% in 2025. France goes from 67,100,000 population in 2017 to 39,114,580 in 2025, again a loss of almost 30% or 28 million souls. Canada goes from 35,620,000 population in 2017 to 26,315,760 in 2025. South Korea goes from 51,180,000 population in 2017 to 37,092,820 in 2025.

The United Kingdom is decimated by genocide and crimes against humanity due to Defendants' 5G and Coronavirus operations, going from a population of 65,650,000 in 2017 to a population of 14,517,860 in 2025.

This is a devastating loss of 51 million persons, or 78% of the population of the United Kingdom due to the Defendants' 5G/AI-Coronavirus genocide and crimes against humanity.

II. Genocidal Technologies-CV /COVID-19 Vaccinations-related Genocide, which must be stopped.

– Probable Cause Evidence of Irreparable Harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code

Plaintiffs introduce the expert testimony of the following Medical Physician and PhD-level scientist Expert Witnesses on Vaccines that demonstrates in detail beyond a reasonable doubt that the COVID-19 Vaccine being developed, tested, prepared, produced, distributed, deployed:

- a) are not medically safe
- b) are not medically effective
- c) have never been proven to reduce disease or improve immunity in real world populations.

Testimony and Evidence from 72 Expert Witnesses regarding Irreparable and Imminent Harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated by any and all COVID-19 vaccinations. This irreparable and imminent harm must be stopped by Writ of Emergency Injunction by this Court.

The New England Journal of Medicine provides Probable cause evidence of Defendants named and unnamed Preparations for COVID-19 Mass Vaccination and mass Genocide of Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, in criminal conspiracy and violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

“NEW ENGLAND JOURNAL OF MEDICINE ARTICLE LAYS OUT DETAILED PLAN ON HOW TO FORCE-VACCINATE THE PUBLIC- JUNE 26, 2020”
SIX TRIGGER CRITERIA FOR STATE COVID-19 VACCINATION MANDATES.

- Covid-19 is not adequately contained in the state.
- The Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices has recommended vaccination for the groups for which a mandate is being considered.
- The supply of vaccine is sufficient to cover the population groups for which a mandate is being considered.
- Available evidence about the safety and efficacy of the vaccine has been transparently communicated.
- The state has created infrastructure to provide access to vaccination without financial or logistic barriers, compensation to workers who have adverse effects from a required vaccine, and real-time surveillance of vaccine side effects.
- In a time-limited evaluation, voluntary uptake of the vaccine among high-priority groups has fallen short of the level required to prevent epidemic spread.

Defendants named and unnamed are creating imminent harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated by continuing to develop, create, test, distribute, mandate, advertise, and deploy dangerous and lethal COVID-19 vaccinations with imminent mass fatal results.

Probable Cause Evidence of lethality of COVID-19 vaccinations: “Four Ukrainian Soldiers Died After Having the American COVID-19 Vaccine Tested on Them In the Kharkov region, four UAF soldiers died after testing the American COVID-19 vaccine.” This was reported by the press officer of the People’s Militia of the LPR Aleksandr Mazeikin.

“According to the LPR, in the Kharkov region American virologists are testing a vaccine against the COVID-19 coronavirus. 15 people were selected for the tests, including 10 Ukrainian servicemen. During the research, 8 subjects were transferred to the emergency department, and three of them were supported by artificial ventilation devices.

“Emergency doctors fighting for the lives of patients could not provide them with the necessary assistance, as they did not have information about the composition of the injected injections. As a result, five patients, including four military personnel, died from complications caused by infection,” Mazeikin said, quoting a source.

“He also said that 'from unconfirmed information, it is known about the use of experimental vaccines in the medical institutions of the Kharkov region, which caused the opposite reaction in patients with weak immunity and the treatment of more than 110 vaccinated residents of the region in medical institutions'.”

“Recall that in Ukraine there are several US bacteriological laboratories that are supervised by the Pentagon. The US Embassy recognised their presence in Ukraine, however, the country’s authorities categorically refuse to inform the public about what these institutions are doing in the country. Representatives of the “Opposition Platform – For Life“ party several times sent relevant requests to the responsible persons, but they remained unanswered. The party sent a complaint to the United Nations in this regard.”

As set out in official statements of the United States of America White House, Defendant United States of America has mobilized 300 million doses of lethal and dangerous COVID-19 vaccinations and 500 million injectors to be used by USA federal troops against Plaintiffs and the American civilian population in a mass genocide and crimes against humanity, in violation of Article 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

“Vaccines are coming along really well. Likewise therapeutics. Moving faster than anticipated.”

“President Donald J. Trump:

DEVELOPING EFFECTIVE VACCINES: President Donald J. Trump is harnessing the full power of the public and private sectors to deliver a safe and effective vaccine as soon as possible.

The President is using all available means to ensure safe vaccines, therapeutics, and diagnostics are developed, manufactured, and distributed in unprecedented time and scale in response to COVID-19.

Earlier this year, President Trump launched Operation Warp Speed, a groundbreaking partnership between the Federal Government, scientific community, and private sector to develop and deliver vaccines in record time.

Operation Warp Speed’s goal is to produce and deliver 300 million doses of safe and effective vaccines with the initial doses available by January 2021.

The Administration has made large investments in multiple vaccine candidates to provide financial infrastructure for mass manufacturing, in parallel with late-stage clinical trials.

Operation Warp Speed is directing a colossal industrial mobilization to ensure the rapid delivery of an eventual safe vaccine.

SEEING TREMENDOUS PROGRESS: The President’s strategy for safely expediting vaccine development is already achieving incredible results.

There has been promising early data from clinical trials and manufacturing is ramping up as candidates go through late-stage trials.

Operation Warp Speed has invested in more than five vaccines and teamed up with multiple pharmaceutical companies to safely produce as many effective vaccines as possible.

A number of vaccine candidates have shown promising early clinical results and are either in or starting Phase 3 clinical trials, including AstraZeneca, Moderna, and Pfizer.

Several vaccine candidates are using the National Institutes of Health (NIH) clinical trial network to help enroll individuals into the clinical trials.

UNLEASHING AMERICAN INGENUITY: President Trump has unleashed the power of American innovation in order to fight the invisible enemy.

The Trump Administration is using the whole of our Nation’s scientific genius to help combat COVID-19.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has authorized more than 185 tests under emergency authorities, including more than 150 molecular tests and 30 antibody tests.

The FDA launched its Coronavirus Treatment Acceleration Program to facilitate new treatments for COVID-19 patients as quickly as possible. A number of promising therapies for COVID-19, like Remdesivir, have been identified and are already in use.”

Evidentiary statement linking Defendant Bill Gates, Defendant GAVI, Defendant United States of America, and Defendant Head of State of the United States of America and other Defendants named and unnamed in causing imminent and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code: “Trump CAVES: Directly funds BILL GATES ‘Global Alliance VACCINE Initiative’ after ‘withdrawing’ money from WHO”

July 13, 2020 by IWB

Trump CAVES and directly funds BILL GATES ‘Global Alliance VACCINE Initiative’ after ‘withdrawing’ money from WHO. Now Gates won’t have to deal with pesky bureaucracy and can pocket those sweet funds directly. TRUMP ADMITS SUPPORTING GATES VACCINE INITIATE:

Trump now has his State Department directing funds to the Gates Foundations ‘Global Alliance Vaccine Initiate’ via USAID. Upwards of 2 Billion will now be given directly to Bill Gates.

President Donald Trump sent a video message of support for the Gates Global Vaccine Alliance after Johnson personally reached out. Although Trump did not specify the US pledge amount in his message, the United States Agency for International Development had announced in February a pledge of US $1.16 billion.

“There are no borders, [the virus] doesn’t discriminate, it’s been it’s nasty but we can all take care of it together. It’s great to be partnering with [GAVI]. We will work hard, we will work strong...good luck, let’s get the answer,” said Trump, under fire from critics at home and abroad for his handling of massive civil unrest in the wake of the police murder of a black Minneapolis man.

For the purpose of this Statute, "genocide" means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such:

- (a) Killing members of the group;
- (b) Causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;
- (c) Deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part;
- (d) Imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group;

Submission of Probable Cause Evidentiary statement: “Black Americans dying of Covid-19 at three times the rate of white people
New figures from non-partisan APM Research Lab show staggering racial divide in coronavirus death rate across US

Published on Wed 20 May 2020 17.50 BST

The racial wound at the center of the coronavirus pandemic in the US continues to fester, with latest data showing that African Americans have died from the disease at almost three times the rate of white people.

New figures compiled by the non-partisan APM Research Lab and released on Wednesday under the title Color of Coronavirus provide further evidence of the staggering divide in the Covid-19 death rate between black Americans and the rest of the nation.

Across the country, African Americans have died at a rate of 50.3 per 100,000 people, compared with 20.7 for whites, 22.9 for Latinos and 22.7 for Asian Americans.

More than 20,000 African Americans – about one in 2,000 of the entire black population in the US – have died from the disease.

At the level of individual states, the statistics are all the more shocking. Bottom of the league table in terms of racial disparities is Kansas, where black residents are dying at seven times the rate of whites.

“This is a call to action for our county commissioners, our state and our city officials,” the Kansas state representative Gail Finney told local TV channel KWCH12 recently.

In other states, the gulf is almost as extreme. In the nation’s capital, Washington, the disparity in death rate between blacks and whites is six times, in Michigan and Missouri five, and in major hotspots of the disease – New York, Illinois and Louisiana – three.

'It's a racial justice issue': Black Americans are dying in greater numbers from Covid-19

Despite the glaring gulf, the Trump administration continues to be sluggish in responding to the crisis. Uché Blackstock, an urgent care physician and CEO of Advancing Health Equity, said that the federal reaction had been anemic.

“The disparities are continuing to be reflected in the data, yet we still have a complete lack of guidance from the federal government about how to mitigate these divisions. There is no real plan how to deal with it,” Blackstock said.

Senior Trump administration officials have blamed the disparities on the high incidence among black people of underlying health conditions such as diabetes, hypertension and obesity. On Sunday the health secretary, Alex Azar, pointed to their “greater risk profiles”, and was criticized for blaming the victims of the virus.

While co-morbidities are a factor, there is mounting evidence that black Americans are disadvantaged in terms of access to diagnostic testing and treatment for the disease.

Gathering data on the racial gulf in deaths has itself been hampered by an absence of federal action, compounded by slow and in some cases non-existent reporting by many states. The US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) only produced its first set of death statistics by race this week, despite mounting calls for basic information.

In the absence of government data, APM Research Lab has stepped into the breach. It now gathers statistics from 40 states, covering almost 90% of the total of 92,128 deaths in the US recorded by Johns Hopkins.

Andi Egbert, senior researcher at APM Research Lab, said she was astonished that it was left to an independent organization to produce nationwide statistics that should be coming from the federal government. “I won’t speculate about motive, but I can’t believe in a modern economy that we don’t have a mandated, uniform way of reporting the data across states. We are in the midst of this tremendous crisis, and data is the best way of knowing who is suffering and how.”

Among the states that are still failing to produce any data on deaths by racial group are Montana, Nebraska, Utah and North and South Dakota.

The racial disparities in the US death figures became apparent relatively early on in the pandemic, particularly in large cities where black neighborhoods were hit much harder than wealthier white areas. When New York City produced its first racial breakdown of Covid-19 deaths in April it showed that Latino and black New Yorkers, especially in the outer boroughs including Queens and the Bronx, were experiencing death rates that were at least twice those of whites and Asians.

New figures from the city’s health department released this week and reviewed by the New York Times found that when death rates are ranked by zip code, eight out of the top 10 have majority black or Latino populations.

As the pandemic unfolds, some states including Michigan and New York have begun to convene specialist taskforces to grapple with the disproportionate suffering in black communities. But Blackstock said that there remained no sign of the Trump administration stepping up to tackle the crisis.

“At this point we have to assume that the clear lack of guidance from the federal government is going to continue, and that states are going to have to do it for themselves,” she said.

Defendant Melinda Gates is widely quoted as stating with regard to lethal COVID-19 vaccinations, “In the U.S., that would be black people next, quite honestly, and many other people of color. They are having disproportionate effects from COVID-19. From there, people with underlying health conditions, and then people who are older. Those are the ones who all need it first. We also need to think about essential workers who are keeping our grocery stores open for us so we can buy food, or who are making sure that food moves through the warehouses.”

III. Genocidal Technologies-CV Social Control Methods Genocide – Probable Cause Evidence of Irreparable Harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated, in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code

Defendants named and unnamed are violating the following provisions of Article 7 of the International Criminal Code by continuing to develop, announce, promulgate, and criminally enforce their Genocidal Technologies-Coronavirus Social Control Methods Genocide, to wit:

- (a) “Attack directed against any civilian population” means a course of conduct involving the multiple commission of acts referred to in paragraph 1 against any civilian population, pursuant to or in furtherance of a State or organizational policy to commit such attack;
- (b) “Extermination” includes the intentional infliction of conditions of life, inter alia the deprivation of access to food and medicine, calculated to bring about the destruction of part of a population;
- (c) “Enslavement” means the exercise of any or all of the powers attaching to the right of ownership over a person and includes the exercise of such power in the course of trafficking in persons, in particular women and children;
- (d) “Deportation or forcible transfer of population” means forced displacement of the persons concerned by expulsion or other coercive acts from the area in which they are lawfully present, without grounds permitted under international law;
- (e) “Torture” means the intentional infliction of severe pain or suffering, whether physical or mental, upon a person in the custody or under the control of the accused; except that torture shall not include pain or suffering arising only from, inherent in or incidental to, lawful sanctions;
- (f) “Forced pregnancy” means the unlawful confinement of a woman forcibly made pregnant, with the intent of affecting the ethnic composition of any population or carrying out other grave violations of international law. This definition shall not in any way be interpreted as affecting national laws relating to pregnancy;
- (g) “Persecution” means the intentional and severe deprivation of fundamental rights contrary to international law by reason of the identity of the group or collectivity;
- (h) “The crime of apartheid” means inhumane acts of a character similar to those referred to in paragraph 1, committed in the context of an institutionalized regime of systematic oppression and domination by one racial group over any other racial group or groups and committed with the intention of maintaining that regime;

- (i) “Enforced disappearance of persons” means the arrest, detention or abduction of persons by, or with the authorization, support or acquiescence of, a State or a political organization, followed by a refusal to acknowledge that deprivation of freedom or to give information on the fate or whereabouts of those persons, with the intention of removing them from the protection of the law for a prolonged period of time.

Defendants ongoing Crimes Against Humanity directed at causing imminent and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated include and are not limited to:

- lockdown,
- quarantine;
- self-isolation;
- social distancing;
- mandatory mask-wearing;
- arbitrary and unjustified closure of business, education, culture, transportation, agriculture, and core human civilization;
- closing schools, parks, daycares, and social amenities;
- discontinuance of access to medical, dental, chiropractic, homeopathic, hearing, dietary, and other support for all mental illness, blind, deaf, disabled, and for special needs children;
- closing down of religious and spiritual gatherings and services – wherever located

Hardly anyone died of Covid-19 according to the newest epidemiological study from China, which found a paltry fatality rate of just 0.04% to 0.12%, thus far lower than the seasonal flu, which has a mortality rate of about 0.1%.

As a reason for the overestimated fatality of Covid19, the researchers suspect that initially only a small number of cases were recorded in Wuhan, as the disease was probably asymptomatic or mild in many people. Now that we know the mortality rate of Covid-19 to be two times lower than that of the seasonal flu, why are our governments locking us up and denying us the most fundamental rights and liberties?

Clearly not for medical reasons and certainly not for our protection.

According to the latest European monitoring report, overall mortality in all countries (including Italy) and in all age groups remains within or even below the normal range so far.

In other words, there are no more deaths this year, in Italy and anywhere else in Europe, than there were last year or any other year. In fact, there are fewer deaths this year.

Despite being one of the first countries getting positive test results and having imposed no lockdown, Japan is one of the least-affected nations.

The mortality profile of COVID-19 remains puzzling from a virological point of view because, in contrast to influenza viruses, children are spared and men are affected about twice as often as women. On the other hand, this profile corresponds to natural mortality, which is close to zero for children and almost twice as high for 75-year-old men as for women of the same age. In other words, mortality is within normal parameters and has nothing to do with Covid-19.

The test currently used for diagnosing coronavirus infections, the so-called SARS-CoV-2 Coronavirus Multiplex RT-qPCR Kit, should only be used for research and not for diagnostics according to its makers.

No wonder, since studies have shown to give 80% false positives. In other words it diagnoses inaccurately 8 out of 10 times, which means that Joe the plumber could do better than that.

Professor Sucharit Bhakdi, a world renowned expert in medical microbiology, says blaming the new coronavirus alone for deaths is “wrong” and “dangerously misleading”, as there are other more important factors at play, notably pre-existing health conditions and poor air quality in Chinese and Northern Italian cities. Professor Bhakdi describes the currently discussed or imposed measures as “grotesque”, “useless”, “self-destructive” and a “collective suicide” that will shorten the lifespan of the elderly and should not be accepted by society. In other words, it is the quarantine measures, the bad air, and the poor health of the elderly that are killing people not the so-called pandemic.

A model from Imperial College London predicted between 250,000 and 500,000 deaths in the UK “from” Covid-19, but the authors of the study have now conceded that many of these deaths would not be in addition to, but rather part of the normal annual mortality rate, which in the UK is about 600,000 people per year. In other words, excess mortality would remain low.

German immunologist and toxicologist, Professor Stefan Hockertz, explains in a radio interview that Covid19 is no more dangerous than influenza (the flu), but that it is simply observed much more closely. More dangerous than the virus is the fear and panic created by the media and the “authoritarian reaction” of many governments. Professor Hockertz also notes that most so-called “corona deaths” have in fact died of other causes while also testing positive for coronaviruses.

Hockertz believes that up to ten times more people than reported already had Covid19 but noticed nothing or very little.

It is even possible that the Covid19 virus circulated already in earlier years, but wasn’t discovered because no one was looking for it. Dr. Goldschmidt speaks of a “global terror” created by the media and politics. Every year, he says, three million newborns worldwide and 50,000 adults in the US alone die of Using data from the cruise ship Diamond Princess, Stanford Professor John Ioannidis showed that the age-corrected lethality of Covid19 is between 0.025% and 0.625%, i.e. in the range of a strong cold or the flu. Moreover, a Japanese study showed that of all the test-positive passengers, and despite the high average age, 48% remained completely symptom-free; even among the 80-89 year olds 48% remained symptom-free, while among the 70 to 79 year olds it was an astounding 60% that developed no symptoms at all. This again raises the question whether the pre-existing diseases are not perhaps a more important factor than the virus itself.

Sweden has so far pursued the most liberal strategy in dealing with Covid19, which is based on two principles: Risk groups are protected and people with flu symptoms stay at home. “If you follow these two rules, there is no need for further measures, the effect of which is only marginal anyway,” said chief epidemiologist Anders Tegnell. The reason for this overestimation is the greatly underestimated number of people already infected (without symptoms). As an example, the fully tested Italian community of Vo is mentioned, which showed 50 to 75% symptom-free test-positive persons.

Wildly different infection and mortality rates betray political motives and defy known behavior of viruses. It is suspiciously convenient that the nations with the highest old-age burdens, most underfunded pension plans, and highest median ages – despite also having the best medical services, standards of living and sanitation – should have infinitely higher infection and death rates than poor nations, with lousy medical systems and poor sanitation, but with young populations and no pension plans. Instead of receiving clear answers to simple scientific questions that should take no more than a few days or weeks to answer, only uncertain, contradictory and confusing information is forthcoming from the highest medical authorities of nation states and from the WHO, the world's highest medical authority.

Clearly the official objective is to create anxiety, confusion and fear in order to manipulate the public to accept preventive measures that make no sense. Yet these scientists who are incapable of answering the most basic questions about this virus are already testing vaccines without having first performed safety tests on animals.

On the other hand, more than 200 rich and famous people, from movie stars to athletes and from billionaires to heads of state, along with a few select royals, have purportedly contracted the coronavirus. If that is not odd enough consider that of these circa 200 rich and famous people none has developed any more than a few mild symptoms and many are asymptomatic. If there were any truth in the official declarations then we must conclude that COVID-19 is the world's most discriminate virus who is out to get the rich and powerful while sparing the poorest of the poor. Data from Wuhan shows clearly that no children, no teenagers and no young people have been hospitalized or died of the coronavirus, which killed only old and sick people. The same was confirmed by early data from Italy, where the virus purportedly evolved into an epidemic first on the European continent. Western authorities, however, didn't like this data, because it prevents them from frightening the young into permanent and weeks-long home arrest. As a result, as soon as reports of disobeying youth appeared, younger and younger people began contracting the coronavirus. One can therefore conclude that this pandemic is under the control of governments and not of nature. In the 21st century viruses behave the way politicians dictate and not the way God dictates.

Social distancing rules dictate that people should stay two meters away from each other, yet the places where interpersonal distance is best possible, namely parks and recreational areas, are off limits and those who try to access them are fined. The harder governments try to justify such measures the more ridiculous they look and the stricter the restrictions become begging the question whether those who govern us have lost their sanity. Yet no country in the West or elsewhere sped up ventilator production even though the US had a simulation for a coronavirus pandemic three months prior to the actual event and should have foreseen the obvious? Why? The only logical explanation is because governments know the pandemic to be fake and therefore the need for ventilators to be fake. Three months later and in the midst of a fake pandemic both Europe and the US have purportedly mobilized industry to produce more ventilators, but will they be delivered on time or when the pandemic is suddenly over? Either the high officials who come up with the latest restrictions intended to prevent the spread of the coronavirus pandemic are mentally retarded or they have hidden objectives. You decide.

Article 12, point 3 of the newest military ordinance states: "The ban on the movement of people in a group of more than 3 applies exclusively to pedestrian traffic."

In other words, the government deems it safe to have a car or minivan full of people, but unsafe for more than three people to walk down the street together. In its wisdom, the government has also decided to close all parks, big or small in order to prevent the spread of the virus. It is not safe for people to walk in a park even if they keep two or ten or twenty meters apart, but it is safe for five people to drive together in a car shoulder to shoulder. Of course these decisions make no medical sense whatsoever, but they make perfect environmental sense, as they ensure that one car carries as many people as possible to work, but that no one can use a car to drive to a park, which is not an essential activity at a time of crisis (be it real or invented).

It is therefore clear that the sustainability agenda and not human health informs the quarantine restrictions. Otherwise we would have to conclude that we are governed by mental retards.

The COVID-19 virus has caused ten times fewer infections globally than the common flu causes annually in the US alone. The COVID-19 virus has caused three times fewer deaths globally than the common flu causes annually in the US alone.

By comparing the coronavirus with the common flu on a global scale with the current numbers we find that it causes just 0.1% of the infections (500,000 versus 500 million) and just 4.6% of the deaths (23,000 versus 500,000) the common flu causes. It is in other words a rather harmless virus. And we arrive at these figures by taking the official numbers of COVID-19 infections and deaths at face value even though we know by now that these figures are pulled out of a hat.

No one but the central command knows how many COVID-19 patients there are in the country. And the central command tells no one this information, not even the military staff in charge of the various regions of the country.

The central command tells no one this information because there are no COVID-19 patients other than the common flu patients that are intentionally misdiagnosed as COVID-19 patients by false test kits. And since all doctors and all hospitals are muzzled by strict confidentiality orders issued under military ordinances and enforced with years of prison time, no one can gather this information independently to find out the truth.

That way no one can challenge the official narrative, which has the nearly impossible task of creating and sustaining the impression of a pandemic long enough to accomplish the UN sustainability goals irrespective of death, pain and suffering caused to billions.

In several countries, there is increasing evidence in relation to Covid19 that “the treatment could be worse than the disease”.

On the one hand, there is the risk of so-called nosocomial infections, i.e. infections that the patient, who may only be mildly ill, acquires in hospital. It is estimated that there are approximately 2.5 million nosocomial infections and 50,000 deaths per year in Europe. Even in German intensive care units, about 15% of patients acquire a nosocomial infection, including pneumonia on artificial respiration. There is also the problem of increasingly antibiotic-resistant germs in hospitals.

Another aspect is the certainly well-intentioned but sometimes very aggressive treatment methods that are increasingly used in Covid19 patients. These include, in particular, the administration of steroids, antibiotics and anti-viral drugs (or a combination thereof). Already in the treatment of SARS-1 patients, it has been shown that the outcome with such treatment was often worse and more fatal than without such treatment.

Dr. Richard Capek and other researchers have already shown that the number of test-positive individuals in relation to the number of tests performed remains constant in all countries studied so far, which speaks against an exponential spread (“epidemic”) of the virus and merely indicates an exponential increase in the number of tests.

Depending on the country, the proportion of test-positive individuals is between 5 and 15%, which corresponds to the usual spread of corona viruses. Interestingly, these constant numerical values are not actively communicated (or even removed) by authorities and the media. Instead, exponential but irrelevant and misleading curves are shown without context. Such behavior, of course, does not correspond to professional medical standards, as a look at the traditional influenza report of the German Robert Koch Institute makes clear.

Independent of this study, however, the unreliability of so-called PCR virus tests has long been known: In 2006, for example, a mass infection in a Canadian nursing home with SARS corona viruses was “found”, which later turned out to be common cold corona viruses (which can also be fatal for risk groups).

Italian doctors reported that they had already observed severe cases of pneumonia in northern Italy at the end of last year. However, genetic analyses now show that the Covid19 virus only appeared in Italy in January of this year. “The severe pneumonia diagnosed in Italy in November and December must therefore be due to a different pathogen,” a virologist noted. This once again raises the question what role the Covid19 virus, or other factors, actually play in the Italian situation.

On March 30, we mentioned the list of Italian doctors who died “during the Corona crisis”, many of whom were up to 90 years old and didn’t actively participate in the crisis at all. Today, all years of birth on the list have been removed (see however the last archive version). A strange procedure.

We have also received the following message from an observer in Italy, who gives further details about the dramatic situation there, which is obviously due to far more than a virus:

“In recent weeks, most of the Eastern European nurses who worked 24 hours a day, 7 days a week supporting people in need of care in Italy have left the country in a hurry. This is not least because of the panic-mongering and the curfews and border closures threatened by the “emergency governments”. As a result, old people in need of care and disabled people, some without relatives, were left helpless by their carers.

Many of these abandoned people then ended up after a few days in the hospitals, which had been permanently overloaded for years, because they were dehydrated, among other things. Unfortunately, the hospitals lacked the personnel who had to look after the children locked up in their apartments because schools and kindergartens had been closed. This then led to the complete collapse of the care for the disabled and the elderly, especially in those areas where even harder “measures” were ordered, and to chaotic conditions.

The nursing emergency, which was caused by the panic, temporarily led to many deaths among those in need of care and increasingly among younger patients in the hospitals. These fatalities then served to cause even more panic among those in charge and the media, who reported, for example, “another 475 fatalities”, “The dead are being removed from hospitals by the army”, accompanied by pictures of coffins and army trucks lined up. However, this was the result of the funeral directors’ fear of the “killer virus”, who therefore refused their services. Moreover, on the one hand there were too many deaths at once and on the other hand the government passed a law that the corpses carrying the coronavirus had to be cremated. In Catholic Italy, few cremations had been carried out in the past. Therefore there were only a few small crematoria, which very quickly reached their limits. Therefore the deceased had to be laid out in different churches. In principle, this development is the same in all countries. However, the quality of the health system has a considerable influence on the effects. Therefore, there are fewer problems in Germany, Austria or Switzerland than in Italy, Spain or the USA. However, as can be seen in the official figures, there is no significant increase in the mortality rate. Just a small mountain that came from this tragedy.”

Also in Swiss clinics, no increased occupancy has been observed so far. A visitor to the cantonal hospital in Lucerne reports that there is “less activity than in normal times”. Entire floors have been closed for Covid19, but staff “are still waiting for patients”. The hospitals in Bern, Basel, Zug and Zurich have also been “cleaned out”. Even in Ticino, the intensive care units are not working to capacity, but patients are now being transferred to the German-Swiss departments. From a purely medical point of view, this makes little sense.

The latest data from Norway, evaluated by a PhD in environmental toxicology, again show that the rate of test-positives does not increase – as would be expected in the case of an epidemic – but fluctuates in the normal range for coronaviruses between 2 and 10%. The average age of the test-

German constitutional law experts are raising the alarm for “serious encroachments on fundamental rights”. Constitutional law expert Hans Michael Heinig warns that the “democratic constitutional state could turn into a fascist-hysterical hygiene state in no time”. Professor Christoph Möllers of Berlin’s Humboldt University explains that the infection protection law “cannot serve as a basis for such far-reaching restrictions of citizens’ rights of freedom”. According to the former president of the German Federal Constitutional Court, Hans Jürgen Papier, “emergency measures do not justify the suspension of civil liberties in favour of an authoritarian and surveillance state”.

Biophysicist Felix Scholkmann has visualized the fact that in the US (as in the rest of the world), it is not the number of “infected” people that is increasing exponentially, but the number of tests. The number of “infected” people in relation to the number of tests remains basically constant (oscillating between 10 and 20%), which speaks against a current viral epidemic.

According to the latest influenza report of the German Robert Koch Institute, the number of acute respiratory diseases has “fallen sharply nationwide”. The values have “dropped in all age groups”.

By March 20, the total number of inpatient cases with acute respiratory diseases had also fallen significantly. In the age group from 80 years and older, the number of cases had almost halved compared to the previous week.

In the 73 hospitals examined, 7% of all cases with respiratory diseases were diagnosed with COVID-19. In the age groups 35-59 years it was 16% and in the age group 60-79 years it was 13% who received a COVID-19 diagnosis. These figures correspond to those from other countries as well as to the typical prevalence of coronaviruses (5 to 15%).

An article in DIE ZEIT discusses the issue of intensive care patients in Germany:

“At present politicians, experts and many citizens observe with concern the exponentially increasing number of people who are newly infected every day. However, this is not the decisive indicator for assessing how badly the corona crisis is and will hit Germany. For it is distorted above all by the number of tests, which have been increasing for weeks.

In order to measure the burden on the health system, the number of those who are so seriously ill that they need to be ventilated is particularly important. As long as there are enough ventilation places for them, a great many of them can be saved. Only when these beds become scarce does a situation like the one in Italy threaten.

The DIVI register now shows that the situation in the German intensive care units has been relaxed so far. “We are still in a comfortable area,” says Grabenhenrich. The number of seriously ill patients is not rising as steeply as the number of infected patients and even if it did, it would still be possible to provide a large number of intensive care beds with very good equipment.”

Figures from the northern Italian city of Treviso (near Venice) show that, despite 108 test-positive deaths by the end of March, overall mortality in municipal hospitals remained roughly the same as in previous years. This is a further indication that the temporarily increased mortality in some places is more likely to be due to external factors such as panic and collapse than due to the coronavirus alone.

“Personally, I would say the best advice is to spend less time watching TV news which is sensational and not very good. Personally, I view this Covid outbreak as akin to a bad winter influenza epidemic. In this case we have had 8000 deaths this last year in the ‘at risk’ groups viz over 65% people with heart disease etc. I do not feel this current Covid will exceed this number. We are suffering from a media epidemic!”

We have all seen the gruesome videos and images of people dropping dead on the street in Wuhan, China, during the months of January and February. Now that we know all COVID-19 symptoms and how the infection progresses, we also know that it is impossible to drop dead while walking down the street. The lungs collapse gradually and it takes days of intubation and severe comorbidities before someone can die of COVID-19.

This being the case, we now know all these videos and pictures coming out of China, the world's most censored nation, to be fake and the product of the Chinese authorities.

They were intended to sow fear and panic in the rest of the world so the people of the free world could be deprived of their fundamental rights and liberties under the pretext of protecting public health from a deadly virus.

Google's data on the mobility changes due to the various measures imposed by governments to stop the spread of COVID-19 shows that the many nations that imposed lockdowns have much higher infection and mortality rates than the few nations that didn't, such as Sweden, Belarus, Taiwan, South Korea and the Netherlands. It is therefore clear that quarantine measures not only do not work but are in fact counterproductive as they result in much higher infection and mortality rates in addition to economic hardship that will have disastrous long-term consequences not only on the standard of living but also on human health.

The current data on the global spread of COVID-19 shows paradoxically that the world's poorest nations have virtually no infections while the world's richest nations have the most infections.

If this so-called pandemic were real the situation would be reversed. One must therefore conclude that the COVID-19 is either a virus that infects only rich people who live in countries with great sanitation and advanced medical systems or it is a disease invented to serve political, environmental and geopolitical purposes.

On March 10, when Albania registered just 10 confirmed cases of COVID-19, the government imposed a lockdown on its entire population.

But 10 people out of a population of 2,9 million people means an incidence of 0.00034%, which would not even qualify as a rare disease let alone as a pandemic.

Albania succumbed to international pressure and imposed a lockdown in order to comply with the political decision to declare a harmless pathogen a pandemic irrespective of its presence in the population and harm to it.

To this day, Albania has just 270 confirmed COVID-19 cases. And if we consider that the tests currently used give a false positive 50% to 80% of the time, it means there are fewer than 100 confirmed cases, which is enough cases to qualify as a rare disease. Nevertheless, the quarantine measure and the lockdown continue and have been made much stricter on March 16.

Yet the medical situation is so relaxed that “on 29 March, Albania sent a group of thirty medical staff members to Lombardy, Italy. Prime Minister Edi Rama said his country was thanking former Italian help.”

Montenegro, which has a population of 632,000 and is a stone's throw away from Italy had no COVID-19 infections until March 17 when it confirmed its first two cases. On the same day, the rest of Europe recorded 9,463 new COVID-19 infections and Italy alone had 27,980 confirmed cases in total by then.

Why would a country in the middle of Europe remain immune to the pandemic?

To this day, Montenegro remains largely untouched by COVID-19 as it has registered only 193 cases and 2 deaths. Furthermore, the government has imposed no quarantine measures on its population with the exception of Tuzi, a small town of about 5,000 people, which was placed under lockdown on March 24.

Conspicuously, Montenegro is also left out of Google's mobility data. Had it been included it would have been painfully obvious that despite living as usual and doing absolutely nothing to prevent the pandemic, Montenegro has remained virtually untouched by COVID-19.

If there truly was a pandemic caused by a virus called COVID-19 the rate of death would be the same or nearly the same throughout the world. But since this is not the case, the number of deaths double in some countries every 2 days, in others every 3 days, in yet others every 5 days and in a few even every 10 days.

Why? The only logical answer is that some countries are more committed than others in faking a pandemic. And they are less committed because they are not trying to euthanize its old and sick people under the cover of the fake COVID-19 pandemic.

The nations with the most deaths and the fastest rate of death have the oldest populations, the highest median age, the most underfunded pension plans and the highest per capita debt. As such, it is in their interest to euthanize as many old and sick people as possible to save themselves from financial collapse.

The nations with the most deaths and the fastest rate of death are also Catholic (Italy, Spain, France) and that means they cannot euthanize the old as it would violate the Church's doctrines. Instead they have received the Church's permission to euthanize the old in one mass killing event under the cover of a fake pandemic.

And that is precisely what they are doing.

Why would the same virus, COVID-19, behave in such a radically different manner in the US compared to other nations presumably afflicted by it?

Why would it explode in such a manner and progress three times faster and three times further than anywhere else on the planet?

Because the US does not want to miss the best opportunity ever to pursue its geopolitical objectives and because it always wants to be the first at everything, even at disaster. That means the COVID-19 virus is under political control and not under the control of nature.

COVID-19 is not a viral disease but a political one and is as contagious as heads of state and government decide it to be.

The first cases of COVID-19 outside of China were identified in Thailand on January 13. But even though Thailand's population is dense and the government took no measures whatsoever to stop its spread, two months later and the disease has still not made any progress there.

How can that be? How can there be just 2000 infections in Thailand over the course of two months and despite no prevention measures while in Italy, Spain, France, the US and elsewhere there are tens of thousands of cases in half that time and despite the most draconian and fascist measures in the history of mankind?

The answer can only be one. Because this pandemic is the creation of politics and of a system utterly incapable of solving the world's dire problems by truth and leadership.

<https://tinyurl.com/y578vb73>

The first cases of COVID-19 outside of China were identified on January 13 in Thailand and on January 16 in Japan. And as in Thailand so in Japan the disease made no inroads and has so far managed to infect a paltry 2,600 people even though the government of Japan has imposed no lockdown and took only mild measures. During half this time, however, COVID-19 is supposed to have infected nearly half a million people in Europe where life has been stopped dead by the most draconian quarantine measures. And if that is not odd enough, one must consider that in a quarter of this time COVID-19 has managed to infect 270,000 in the US.

How can that be? Especially when one considers the high density of Japan's population and the absence of a lockdown. The purveyors of lies want us to believe that it is Japan's impeccable hygiene. But that is of course utter rubbish. For if that were the truth the disease would not experience a sudden surge as soon as it was announced that the Olympic Games are cancelled. The only logical explanation is this. Our leaders never thought the people of the world would be so docile as to accept being locked in their homes day and night and be bankrupted without scarce a complaint. They thought it would be a miracle if they could keep the show going for two weeks let alone for two months. But the miracle happened and Japan's government saw its dreams of holding the Olympic Games crushed by the people's docility, stupidity and gullibility. Faced with a cancelled Olympics it decided to go all the way with the COVID-19 farce.

The government of Japan has recently announced its intentions to impose a lockdown and will surely follow through.

The Center for Disease Control (CDC) aggregate data on pneumonia and influenza deaths shows the mortality rate to be far lower this year than in previous years, which bluntly contradicts the current government and media reports, which want us to believe that a pandemic is occurring in the US.

The only logical explanation for this anomaly is that currently many of those who die of the common flu or pneumonia are falsely and deliberately diagnosed as dying of COVID-19.

In other words, there is no pandemic.

Taiwan is also one of the most densely populated countries in the world and adopted no quarantine measures whatsoever for the general population and certainly no lockdown, yet the number of infections to this day is at just 363 for a population of 24 million.

In Austria, as elsewhere in Europe nowadays, “corona deaths” are apparently defined “very liberally”, as the media report: “Do you also count as a corona death if you are infected with the virus but die of something else? Yes, say Rudi Anschober and Bernhard Benka, members of the Corona Task Force in the Ministry of Health. There is a clear rule at present: Died with the corona virus or died from the corona virus both count for the statistics. No difference is made as to what the patient actually died of. In other words, a 90-year-old man who dies with a fracture of the femoral neck and becomes infected with corona in the hours prior to his death is also counted as corona death. To name but one example.”

The German Robert Koch Institute now advises against autopsies of test-positive deceased persons because the risk of droplet infection by aerosols is allegedly too high. In many cases, this means that the real cause of death can no longer be determined.

A specialist in pathology comments on this as follows: “Who might think evil of it! Up to now, it has been a matter of course for pathologists to carry out autopsies with appropriate safety precautions even in the case of infectious diseases such as HIV/AIDS, hepatitis, tuberculosis, PRION diseases, etc. It is quite remarkable that in a disease that is killing thousands of patients all over the world and bringing the economy of entire countries to a virtual standstill, only very few autopsy findings are available (six patients from China). From the point of view of both the epidemic police and the scientific community, there should be a particularly high level of public interest in autopsy findings. However, the opposite is the case. Are you afraid of finding out the true causes of death of the positively tested deceased? Could it be that the numbers of corona deaths would then melt away like snow in the spring sun?”

Italy: Russian experts have noticed “strange deaths” in nursing homes in Lombardy: “According to newspaper reports, several cases have been registered in the town of Gromo in which alleged corona virus-infected persons simply fell asleep and never woke up again. No real symptoms of the disease had been observed in the deceased until then. As the director of the nursing home later clarified in an interview with RIA Novosti, it is unclear whether the deceased were actually infected with the coronavirus, because nobody in the home had been tested for it. In the homes, where medical and nursing teams from Russia are working, corridors, bed rooms and dining rooms are disinfected.”

<https://tinyurl.com/y6b5mw9j>

Similar cases have already been reported from Germany: Nursing patients without symptoms of illness die suddenly in the current exceptional situation and are then considered “corona deaths”. In a 40-minute interview, the internationally renowned epidemiology professor Knut Wittkowski from New York explains that the measures taken on Covid19 are all counterproductive. Instead of “social distancing”, school closures, “lock down”, mouth masks, mass tests and vaccinations, life must continue as undisturbed as possible and immunity must be built up in the population as quickly as possible. According to all findings to date, Covid-19 is no more dangerous than previous influenza epidemics. Isolation now would only cause a “second wave” later.

Expert witness F. William Engdahl – Expert Testimony

Expert witness F. William Engdahl is strategic risk consultant and lecturer, he holds a degree in politics from Princeton University and is a best-selling author on oil and geopolitics. Witness Engdahl submits the following expert testimony regarding Operation Lockstep 2010 and Defendants Bill Gates, Rockefeller Foundation, Global Business Network, and Peter Schwarz [formerly a futurist with Stanford Research Institute (SRI) in the late 1970s, and then Futurist at the Shell Oil Company of the Royal Crown of the Netherlands, also Defendants herein.]

Expert witness Engdahl states, “The report in question has the bland title, “Scenarios for the Future of Technology and International Development.” It was published in May 2010 in cooperation with the Global Business Network of futurologist Peter Schwartz. The report contains various futurist scenarios developed by Schwartz and company. One scenario carries the intriguing title, “LOCK STEP: A world of tighter top-down government control and more authoritarian leadership, with limited innovation and growing citizen pushback.” Here it gets interesting as in what some term predictive programming.”

“The Schwartz scenario states, 'In 2012, the pandemic that the world had been anticipating for years finally hit. Unlike 2009's H1N1, this new influenza strain — originating from wild geese — was extremely virulent and deadly. Even the most pandemic-prepared nations were quickly overwhelmed when the virus streaked around the world, infecting nearly 20 percent of the global population and killing 8 million in just seven months...' He continues, 'The pandemic also had a deadly effect on economies: international mobility of both people and goods screeched to a halt, debilitating industries like tourism and breaking global supply chains. Even locally, normally bustling shops and office buildings sat empty for months, devoid of both employees and customers.’ This sounds eerily familiar.

“Then the scenario gets very interesting: 'During the pandemic, national leaders around the world flexed their authority and imposed airtight rules and restrictions, from the mandatory wearing of face masks to body-temperature checks at the entries to communal spaces like train stations and supermarkets. Even after the pandemic faded, this more authoritarian control and oversight of citizens and their activities stuck and even intensified. In order to protect themselves from the spread of increasingly global problems — from pandemics and transnational terrorism to environmental crises and rising poverty — leaders around the world took a firmer grip on power.’”

“A relevant question is whether certain bad actors, and there are some in this world, are opportunistically using the widespread fears around the COVID-19 to advance an agenda of 'lock step' top down social control, one that would include stark limits on travel, perhaps replacing of cash by 'sanitary' electronic cash, mandatory vaccination even though the long term side effects are not proven safe, unlimited surveillance and the curtailing of personal freedoms such as political protests on the excuse it will allow 'identification of people who refuse to be tested or vaccinated,' and countless other restrictions. Much of the Rockefeller 2010 scenario is already evident. Fear is never a good guide to sound reason.”

EXCERPT:

– 0:05

– Hello, everyone. I'm Anita Cicero, Deputy Director of the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security. And today I will be your master of ceremonies for event to a one. On behalf of our center and our partners, the World Economic Forum and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, I'd like to extend a very warm welcome to our audience here in New York, as well as our larger virtual audience participating online today.

– 0:31

– The goal of the event to a one exercise is to illustrate the potential consequences of a pandemic and the kinds of societal and economic challenges they would pose. The scenario also highlights the very critical role that global business and public private partnerships play in preparing for and responding to pandemics.

– 0:55

– Today's scenario is going to simulate meetings of a multi stakeholder group

– 1:00

– called the pandemic emergency board. This board has been urgently convened by the World Economic Forum. And Johns Hopkins has been asked to moderate the board meetings and provide expertise during the board's deliberations.

– The mission of the pandemic emergency board is to provide recommendations to deal with a major global challenges arising in response to an unfolding pandemic.

– 1:26

– The board is comprised of highly experienced leaders from business, public health and civil society.

– 1:33

– The board's recommendations are aimed at top decision makers in national governments, global business and international organizations. In this scenario, Tom Inglesby, the director of the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security, will be chairing the board and serving as the moderator for its discussions. Today's exercise will simulate four meetings of the pandemic emergency board and each meeting will be devoted to one key topic.

– 2:01

– Each meeting will start with a video and a briefing that will provide the information needed for the board members to engage.

– Please note, this is not a test of any particular person, organization or nation, the participants are all playing as themselves, that is senior business executives, NGO leaders and government officials. They're not expected to be pandemic experts. We've really asked them to participate based on their own expertise and their best professional judgment. With the exception of Tom Inglesby, none of the participants know any of the details about how the exercise will unfold.

World Military Games, Wuhan China [October 18, 2019] Probable cause evidence establishes that Defendants named and unnamed including (a) US Military Mission to World Military Games, (b) Fort Dietrich MD USA Bioweapons Laboratory, (c) unnamed military intelligence operatives of the MOSSAD or the Defendant State of Israel, (d) unnamed military, intelligence, and political policy operatives within the Defendants United States of America and Peoples Republic of China, (e) the Organizing Committee of the World Military Games, Wuhan, China in criminal conspiracy and coordination with the Organizing Committee of Event 201 and the Defendants named and unnamed in Lockstep 2010-2020 Plan continued 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide at the World Military Games, Wuhan China [October 18, 2019] by the following acts that create immediate and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code:

(1) Foreshadowing 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide – As with the 2012 London Olympics creating a COVID-19 Virus at its Opening Games, Defendant Organizing Committee of the World Military Games, Wuhan, China created a meme COVID-19 virus at its Opening Ceremonies starting on October 18, 2019 in Wuhan China, for the purpose causing irreparable and immediate harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated by covertly and malevolently signaling that a genocidal 5G/AI Coronavirus Pandemic was being released at the Games, in accordance with Defendants Operation Lockstep 2010-2020:

Public Health & Justice

(2) 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide Released at World Military Games, Wuhan, China: According to the above-cited evidentiary submission, the U.S. military delegation to the October 2019 World Military Games, Wuhan, China trained at the site of the Bioweapons Laboratory, Fort Dietrich, MD, and samples of 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide in the form of COVID-19 were infiltrated and embedded into the U.S. Delegation to the World Military Games. At the Games Defendants named and unnamed and members of the criminal conspiracy released the COVID 19 virus publicly, and 4 members of the U.S. military delegation became infected with 5G/AI Coronavirus, along with 42 members of the staff of the Hotel at which the U.S. military delegation stayed also became infected with 5G/AI Coronavirus as part of a 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide against Plaintiffs and all humans similarly situated, thereby causing imminent harm in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

President of Ghana testifies about Defendants' clandestine Operation Lockstep 2010-2020 – Hereby submitted is the testimony of the President of Ghana, Nana Akufo-Addo, regarding Defendant Bill Gates, Rockefeller Foundation, Global Business Network, Peter Schwartz, and Anthony Stephen Fauci, MD clandestine Operation Lockstep 2010-2020, carried out by Defendants as part of a 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide against Plaintiffs and all humans similarly situated, thereby causing imminent harm in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

V. Role of Inorganic Sentient and Strong AI Artificial Intelligence in Genocidal Technologies-Coronavirus Genocide and Crimes Against humanity

Evidence submitted by The AI Organization demonstrates that Defendants named and unnamed in criminal co-conspiracy create and continue to create 5G/AI Coronavirus as an AI Artificial Intelligence nanoparticle, capable of delivering multiple changing payloads as a frequency directed energy weapon, remote energy virus, virus, bacteria, or other form of AI Artificial Intelligence induced remote directed energy weapon as part of a 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide against Plaintiffs and all humans similarly situated, thereby causing imminent harm in violation of Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code.

Defendant Prince Charles [UK], Defendant Bill Gates, Defendant Google, Defendant Ray Kurzweil, Defendant Elon Musk are entrained by and in criminal co-conspiracy with PPAI, a sentient Off-planet, predatory, pathogenic, invading Inorganic AI Artificial Intelligence, and are “entrained AI proxies, AI hosts, and AI sponsors” in creating and maintaining the 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide that is causing imminent and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated.”

Defendant Prince Charles [UK], Defendant Bill Gates, Defendant Google, Defendant Ray Kurzweil, Defendant Elon Musk appear to be among the key PPAI-entrained AI proxies, AI hosts, and AI sponsors for the sentient Off-planet, predatory, pathogenic, invading Inorganic AI Artificial Intelligence. Defendant Prince Charles in conspiracy with the PPAI Artificial intelligence covered up the invading and predatory nature of the sentient plasma Inorganic Intelligence, and “called upon the British Royal Society to investigate the ‘enormous environmental and social risks’ of nanotechnology in a planned report, leading to much media commentary on gray goo. The Royal Society’s report on nanoscience was released on 29 July 2004, and declared the possibility of self-replicating machines to lie too far in the future to be of concern to regulators.”

Defendant Prince Charles [UK], Defendant Bill Gates, Defendant Google, Defendant Ray Kurzweil, Defendant Elon Musk, in criminal co-conspiracy act together to are both acting to promote a deceptive “Transhumanist Agenda” threat assessment holding that the singularity of humans and artificial intelligence singularity will not occur until the year 2045, and fail to divulge the existence and threat posed by the off-planet invading sentient plasma Inorganic Intelligence, as the Defendants 5G/AI Coronavirus Genocide is an intentional part of the Defendants' conspiracy to cause immediate and irreparable harm to Plaintiffs and all humans similarly situated.

Emergency Relief Requested

1. 5G/AI-Coronavirus Genocide Emergency Relief – Plaintiffs request A Writ of Emergency Injunction immediately enjoining and stopping Defendants and an international Criminal Conspiracy of unnamed John and Jane Does from any further development, deployment, and operation of 5G/AI wifi and 5G technology on grounds that, for the reasons set out herein, 5G wifi and 5G technology is giving rise to electromagnetic radiation that causes the symptoms of Coronavirus and will cause irreparable harm and injury constituting genocide and crimes against humanity as defined in Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code. The 5G wifi and technology of the Defendants has been rushed into operation in utter disregard of any proper technical and safety review of its health and safety impact on the Plaintiffs and on the community at large.

2. Coronavirus or COVID-19 related Vaccination Genocide: Emergency Relief – Plaintiffs request A Writ of Emergency Injunction immediately enjoining and stopping Defendants and an international Criminal Conspiracy of unnamed John and Jane Does from any further developing, manufacturing, controlling, possessing, distributing, and/or deploying Coronavirus or COVID-19 related Vaccinations on grounds that, for the reasons set out herein, it will cause irreparable harm and injury constituting genocide and crimes against humanity as defined in Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code. The Coronavirus/COVID-19-related Vaccinations of the Defendants has been rushed into operation in utter disregard of any proper technical and safety review of their health and safety impact on the Plaintiff and on the community at large.

3. Coronavirus Social Control Methods Genocide: Emergency Relief Requested – Plaintiffs request A Writ of Emergency Injunction immediately enjoining and stopping Defendants and an international Criminal Conspiracy of unnamed John and Jane Does from any further publishing or enforcing Coronavirus COVID-19 social control methods that will cause irreparable harm and injury constituting genocide and crimes against humanity as defined in Articles 6 and 7 of the International Criminal Code including and not limited to:

- (a) self-isolation;
- (b) social distancing;
- (c) mandatory mask-wearing;
- (d) arbitrary and unjustified closure of business, education, culture, transportation, agriculture, and core human civilization;
- (e) closing schools, parks, daycares, and social amenities;
- (f) discontinuance of access to medical, dental, chiropractic, homeopathic, hearing, dietary, and other support for all mental illness,

- disabled, blind, deaf, and for special needs children;
- (g) closing down of religious and spiritual gatherings and services

The Coronavirus/COVID-19-related Social Control Methods put into place by the Defendants have been rushed into operation in utter disregard of any proper technical and safety review of their health and safety impact on the Plaintiffs and on the community at large.

4. Freedom of Information Emergency Relief – Plaintiffs request A Writ of Emergency Injunction immediately enjoining and stopping Defendants and an international Criminal Conspiracy of unnamed John and Jane Does from intentionally publishing false information about, censoring or deleting from publication legitimate, science and journalistic-based information, constitutionally protected news, information and research regarding causal relationship of 5G/AI-Coronavirus, Coronavirus Vaccinations, and Coronavirus Social Control Methods to the genocide and crimes against humanity that Plaintiffs and all human beings similarly situated are now in imminent danger of.

5. Equitable Relief Requested: Writ of Mandamus and Restorative Justice

Restorative Justice vs Retributive Justice: “Restorative justice is an approach to justice in which one of the responses to a crime is to organize a meeting between the victim and the offender, sometimes with representatives of the wider community. The goal is for them to share their experience of what happened, to discuss who was harmed by the crime and how, and to create a consensus for what the offender can do to repair the harm from the offense. This may include a payment of money given from the offender to the victim, apologies and other amends, and other actions to compensate those affected and to prevent the offender from causing future harm.”

“A restorative justice program aims to get offenders to take responsibility for their actions, to understand the harm they have caused, to give them an opportunity to redeem themselves and to discourage them from causing further harm. For victims, its goal is to give them an active role in the process[1] and to reduce feelings of anxiety and powerlessness.[2] Restorative justice is founded on an alternative theory to the traditional methods of justice, which often focus on retribution. However, restorative justice programs can complement traditional methods.”

“Academic assessment of restorative justice is positive. Most studies suggest it makes offenders less likely to reoffend. A 2007 study also found that it had the highest rate of victim satisfaction and offender accountability of any method of justice.[2] Its use has seen worldwide growth since the 1990s.[3] Restorative justice inspired and is part of the wider study of restorative practices.”

”Definition

According to John Braithwaite, restorative justice is:[4]

...a process where all stakeholders affected by an injustice have an opportunity to discuss how they have been affected by the injustice and to decide what should be done to repair the harm. With crime, restorative justice is about the idea that because crime hurts, justice should heal. It follows that conversations with those who have been hurt and with those who have inflicted the harm must be central to the process.

Although law professionals may have secondary roles in facilitating the restorative justice process, it is the citizens who must take up the majority of the responsibility in healing the pains caused by crime.[4] The process of restorative justice thus shifts the responsibility for addressing crime.

In 2014, Carolyn Boyes-Watson from Suffolk University defined restorative justice as:

...a growing social movement to institutionalize peaceful approaches to harm, problem-solving and violations of legal and human rights. These range from international peacemaking tribunals such as the South Africa Truth and Reconciliation Commission to innovations within the criminal and juvenile justice systems, schools, social services and communities. Rather than privileging the law, professionals and the state, restorative resolutions engage those who are harmed, wrongdoers and their affected communities in search of solutions that promote repair, reconciliation and the rebuilding of relationships. Restorative justice seeks to build partnerships to reestablish mutual responsibility for constructive responses to wrongdoing within our communities. Restorative approaches seek a balanced approach to the needs of the victim, wrongdoer and community through processes that preserve the safety and dignity of all.”[5]

“Difference from other approaches

According to Howard Zehr, restorative justice differs from traditional criminal justice in terms of the guiding questions it asks. In restorative justice, the questions are:

Who has been hurt?

What are their needs?

Whose obligations are these?

What are the causes?

Who has a stake in the situation?

What is the appropriate process to involve stakeholders in an effort to address causes and put things right?[6]

In contrast, traditional criminal justice asks:

What laws have been broken?

Who did it?

What do the offender(s) deserve?[7]

Restorative justice is also different from the adversarial legal process or that of civil litigation.

As Braithwaite writes, ‘Court-annexed ADR (alternative dispute resolution) and restorative justice could not be philosophically further apart’. While the former seeks to address only legally relevant issues and to protect both parties' rights, restorative justice aims at ‘expanding the issues beyond those that are legally relevant, especially into underlying relationships’.[8]

History

History of the term

The phrase “restorative justice” has appeared in written sources since the first half of the nineteenth century.[9] The modern usage of the term was introduced by Albert Eglash, who in 1977 described three different approaches to justice:

“retributive justice”, based on punishment;

“distributive justice”, involving therapeutic treatment of offenders;

“restorative justice”, based on restitution with input from victims and offenders.[10]

Precursors in indigenous groups

According to Howard Zehr, “Two peoples have made very specific and profound contributions to practices in the field – the First Nations people of Canada and the U.S., and the Maori of New Zealand... [I]n many ways, restorative justice represents a validation of values and practices that were characteristic of many indigenous groups,” whose traditions were “often discounted and repressed by western colonial powers”.[11] For example, in New Zealand, prior to European contact, the Maori had a well-developed system called Utu that protected individuals, social stability and the integrity of the group.[12] Restorative justice (sometimes known in these contexts as circle justice) continues to be a feature of indigenous justice systems today.[13]

Development of theory

Howard Zehr's book Changing Lenses—A New Focus for Crime and Justice, first published in 1990, is credited with being “groundbreaking”, [14] as well as being one of the first to articulate a theory of restorative justice.[15] The title of this book refers to providing an alternative framework for thinking about – or new lens for viewing – crime and justice.[16] Changing Lenses

juxtaposed a “retributive justice” framework, where crime is viewed as an offense against the state, with a restorative justice framework, where crime is viewed as a violation of people and relationships.[17] The book made reference to the positive results of efforts in the late 1970s and 1980s at victim-offender mediation, pioneered in the United States by Howard Zehr, Ron Claassen and Mark Umbreit.[18]

By the second half of the 1990s, the expression “restorative justice” had become popular, evolving to widespread usage by 2006.[19] The restorative justice movement has attracted many segments of society, including “police officers, judges, schoolteachers, politicians, juvenile justice agencies, victim support groups, aboriginal elders, and mums and dads.”[20]

“Restorative justice is a fast-growing state, national, and international social movement that seeks to bring together people to address the harm caused by crime,” write Mark Umbreit and Marilyn Peterson Armour. “Restorative justice views violence, community decline, and fear-based responses as indicators of broken relationships. It offers a different response, namely the use of restorative solutions to repair the harm related to conflict, crime, and victimization.”[21]

Development of practice

“In North America, the growth of restorative justice has been facilitated by NGOs dedicated to this approach to justice, such as the Victim Offender Mediation Association, as well as by the establishment of academic centers, such as the Center for Justice and Peacebuilding at Eastern Mennonite University in Virginia, the University of Minnesota's Center for Restorative Justice and Peacemaking, the Community Justice Institute at Florida Atlantic University, the Center for Peacemaking and Conflict Studies at Fresno Pacific University in California, and the Centre for Restorative Justice at Simon Fraser University in British Columbia, Canada.[22] Members of the Mennonites and the social-action arm of their church-community, Mennonite Central Committee, were among the early proponents.[23][24] The antinomian groups advocating and supporting restorative justice, such as the Mennonites (as well as Amish and Quaker groups), subscribe to principled pacifism and also tend to believe that restorative justice is much more humane than the punitive juvenile and criminal justice systems.”[25]

“The development of restorative justice in continental Europe, especially the German speaking countries, Austria, Germany and Switzerland, is somewhat different from the Anglo-Saxon experience. For example, victim-offender mediation is just one model of restorative justice, but in the present European context it is the most important one.[26][27] Restorative justice is not just a theory, but a practice-oriented attitude in dealing (not only) with criminal relevant conflicts. Restorative justice may be moving towards restorative practice.”[28]

“In October 2018, the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe adopted a recommendation to member states which recognised “the potential benefits of using restorative justice with respect to criminal justice systems” and encouraged member states to “develop and use restorative justice”. [29]

“Internationally, 125 nations collectively endeavored to contribute to the Prison Fellowship International set up by Charles Colson in 1979, which is aimed to help the current and former insiders and their family members beyond America. The Center for Justice & Reconciliation was initiated for information dissemination and education pertaining to justice and reconciliation as of 1996 by the Prison Fellowship International.”[30]

Application

In system-wide offenses

“The South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission shows how restorative justice can be used to address system-wide offenses that affect broad swaths of a group or a society.”[31]
